

BT-PS12V0280T10 Battery 12V 28Ah T10. This rechargeable battery is spill-proof and features VRLA technology for reliable performance

- Ability to be charged and discharged multiple times
- Long lifespan compared to disposable batteries
- Eliminates the need for regular maintenance tasks
- Saves time and effort
- Prevents spills and leaks

The BT-PS12V0280T10 Battery is an essential power source for alarm and security systems. This rechargeable battery is designed to keep your alarm system working during power outages or emergencies. With its sealed lead acid technology, the BT-PS12V0280T10 battery offers a safe and maintenance-free solution for your security needs.

One of the key features of the BT-PS12V0280T10 battery is its thickened sulfuric acid electrolyte. This thickened electrolyte not only improves the overall performance of the battery but also prevents spills. This makes it an excellent choice for use in places where mishaps are more likely, such as residences or workplaces. The sealed design of the battery also ensures that the electrolyte remains securely inside, eliminating the risk of leakage.

Moreover, the BT-PS12V0280T10 battery comes with vents that allow the release of gases in case of accidental overcharging. This feature enhances the safety of the battery and prolongs its lifespan. The vents prevent the battery from becoming damaged or overheating, ensuring a more reliable power source for your alarm system.

The BT-PS12V0280T10 battery belongs to a type of battery called sealed lead acid. A valve that regulates the internal pressure prevents the battery from drying out or leaking. The seal also prevents the entry of contaminants, increasing the durability and reliability of these batteries.

In conclusion, the BT-PS12V0280T10 Battery 12V 28Ah T10 Sealed Lead Acid Alarm System Battery Replacement is a top-quality, rechargeable battery that offers a safe and efficient power source for your alarm system. Its maintenance-free design, thickened sulfuric acid electrolyte, and vented features make it a reliable and long-lasting option for your security needs. So, whether you're upgrading your current alarm system or looking for a replacement battery, the BT-PS12V0280T10 battery is an ideal choice for all your alarm system power needs.
